Miss Universe Crown
(designed by Glasser)

Key to Seoul, Korea
(given to Glasser, 1980)

Harold L. Glasser's life is a true American odyssey and success story. Glasser (1918-2010) was a decorated World War II bombardier, a respected attorney, public servant and businessman who became internationally known during his 27-year career as president of Miss Universe, Inc.

The exhibition tells the story of Glasser's extraordinary life through a wide variety of memorabilia, photographs and letters. Among the display items are historic war photographs, Glasser's bombardier's jacket, his 12 combat decorations, the Miss Universe crown he designed and honorary keys to cities around the world.
