ICEBOOK, THE SMALLEST LIVE PERFORMANCE 3D EVER PRESENTED

Florida Atlantic University is hosting “The Icebook,” a 3D cinema production created from paper and enhanced by light projections, for 10 shows daily on December 7–9, 2012 in Boca Raton, FL, USA.

Paper and Light: The Icebook is a pop-up book that comes to life, as if by magic, in front of your eyes. It could possibly be the smallest live performance in the world, a 3D cinema made from paper and light: true 3D without stereoscopic projection and without 3D glasses...

Each page unfolds into an animated miniature world, telling the story of a princess who lures a boy into the forest to warm her heart of ice. Watch the video preview here under.

Where and When

“The Icebook,” a love story about a princess who lures a boy into a forest to warm her heart of ice, is recommended for ages 10 and older.

The show is 50 minutes long and will be presented on the hour and half hour for up to 12 people. The shows will begin Friday December 7, 2012 at 4 p.m., Saturday Dec 8 at 3:30 p.m. and Sunday Dec 9 at 2:30 p.m.

The event will be held at the Wimberly Library, 777 Glades Road, Boca Raton campus, Florida, USA.

Tickets are $15 each. Donations above the ticket price are encouraged, but not required. To reserve tickets, visit jaffecollection.org or call (001) 561–297–0455.

Davy and Kristin McGuire

Davy and Kristin McGuire are an award winning director/designer couple whose projects range from music videos, animation films and installations to live theater shows, dance performances, video projections and everything in between.

Their client list includes Cirque de Soleil, Canal+, The Guillemots, Partizan and Aardman. Their productions have been televised in Japan and on Canal+ in France.

The Icebook has been performed to sold out audiences throughout Europe and in India. Their performances at the Jaffe Center for Book Arts are the North American debut of this fantastic work, and in 2013 the McGuires plan to take it to Japan and Australia.
