The Gospel According to Jerry Comes to the Kultur Festival 2012
February 13, 2012

The Gospel According to Jerry, named one of the ten best plays in Minneapolis in 2011, is coming to the Kultur Festival 2012 on March 5th, at FAU-Florida Atlantic University. Written by Rabbi Irwin Kula and Richard Krevolin, this funny and poignant work explores the relationship between a rabbi and a gospel singer, who meet at Overeaters Anonymous and come to appreciate each other’s faith. A heartwarming story, this moving play takes a contemporary look at spirituality, bias, stereotypes, and race relations.

The performance will be held at 7:00 pm at Wimberly Library (5th floor) on FAU’s Boca Raton campus. Tickets are $15. For more information go to: https://www.fauevents.com/online/default.asp?doWork::WScontent::loadArti.

The Kultur Festival 2012 is unique in South Florida. Celebrating Jewish culture, it offers eight days of concerts, theater, film, and book arts. The Festival showcases Florida Atlantic University Libraries’ Special Collections, through the talents of guest artists, scholars, and musicians, including Klezmer Company Orchestra (KCO), the library’s professional ensemble-in-residence. Festival Director Aaron Kula and KCO perform the festival’s main event Roots, Rhythm & Soul in concert with special guest vocalists.

By Judy Epstein from Clal