The Week Ahead: June 19 to 25

Sunday

Salute to the Spirit of America concert at Kaye Auditorium at FAU, 777 Glades Road, Boca Raton; 3 p.m.; $18 to $40; 800/564-9539 or www.fauevents.com

The Klezmer Company Orchestra, FAU Libraries’ always-busy orchestra-in-residence, is still reeling from the success of its second album, “Klezmerology,” released this past March. The album suggests a dissection, deconstruction and revision of centuries-old Jewish klezmer music, fusing it with even more ambition than its award-winning predecessor, “Beyond the Tribes.” This afternoon’s annual concert, however, is all about American classics, such as Copland’s ballet “Rodeo,” Bernstein’s “A Musical Toast” and Tchaikovsky’s rousing “1812 Overture.” Guest vocalist Daniel Cochran will sing Copland’s “Old American Songs” and numbers from “Singin’ in the Rain.”
