“The Unseen World Around Us” at FAU’s Wimberly Library, 777 Glades Road, Boca Raton; 8 a.m. to midnight; free; 561/297-3785 or www.library.fau.edu

Photographer and recent FAU Chemistry graduate Efram Goldberg may very well be afraid of many things in life, but one thing is certain: Arachnophobia isn’t one of them. Nor does he shy away from any other creepy, crawly creatures, for that matter. Visit Goldberg’s website (eframgoldberg.com), and you’ll be treated to an extreme close-up of a jumping spider; cycle through his other images for tactile impressions of a weevil, paper wasp, dragonfly, orchid bee and other insects, all explored with vivid, colorful detail. These works and more are currently displayed at FAU’s Wimberly Library, running through Oct. 1.
