FAU Senior Amy Grover to Present ‘The Art of Research: Selections from the Marvin and Sybil Weiner Spirit of America Collection’ Discussion and Slide Show, Friday, April 11, at 3 p.m.

FAU senior Amy Grover, who curated “The Art of Research: Selections from the Marvin and Sybil Weiner Spirit of America Collection” exhibition, will present a discussion and slide show of her work, on Friday, April 11, at 3 p.m., on the Wimberly Library’s fifth floor. The Weiner collection pays tribute to the country’s Founding Fathers and consists of more than 13,000 items, including first and later editions of books, manuscripts and pamphlets that were printed before 1865. Grover examined, cataloged and described the visual elements from selected volumes in the collection. She then began a unique database that can be used by librarians and FAU’s visual arts and art history students. The exhibition will be displayed from Thursday, April 3, through Thursday, May 29, on the library’s second floor east, outside of the special collections suite. The exhibition is a collaboration between Karen Leader, Ph.D., visual arts and art history, and Victoria Thur, a special collections librarian and university archivist. Grover’s work is an example of the type of undergraduate research encouraged by FAU’s Quality Enhancement Plan.
